Program Objectives
The program of International Business and Trade (IBUS) is designed to prepare students for careers in maritime transportation, international logistics, and global supply chain management industries.

Students gain a solid foundation in import/export management processes, world economics, licensing and documentation, U.S. Customs regulations, and political-legal factors in the foreign trade environment.

Students learn international purchasing and sourcing, international marketing strategies, monetary systems, international and domestic transportation and logistics, organizational culture, and global maritime management.

Field experience classes give students hands-on experience as logistics interns with companies in the Greater Houston Area.

Graduates work as specialists in import/export management, trade compliance, freight forwarding, ocean/truck/rail/air transportation, port operations, vessel fleet management, trade finance, and as consulate liaisons facilitating trade between the U.S. and foreign countries. Some graduates seek opportunities as entrepreneurs in one of the many international business sectors.

Job Opportunities
Graduates will work as specialists in importing and exporting, trade compliance, the United States government, freight forwarders, custom brokers, specialists in ocean/truck/rail/air transportation, logistics specialists, retail and wholesale representatives, inspection specialists, international trade representatives, and document analysts.
